Subject:

Enclosure: RESOURCES AND ALLOCATIONS.....Action, 1952"

Subject: Forwarding of enclosure

enclosed paper,

1. The ~~enclosure~~, which ~~is~~ comprises the introductory ~~and analytical~~ sections and the conclusions of a forthcoming CIA Intelligence Memorandum (IM-181), is forwarded in advance of publication of ~~the complete Intelligence Memorandum~~ at the oral request of the Army representative on the Joint Intelligence Group. It is sent at this time for use in connection with a forthcoming series of conferences.

2. It is ~~expected~~ <sup>as completed,</sup> expected that IM-181 will be delivered to all above addressees on or about 20 September.

P.S. IM-181 is going to be a stinkeroo, frankly, and we wish the hell it had never been thought of. May we politely suggest---no hard feelings please---that you fellows pick yourself some simpler enemy than Russia such as, say, Costa

Rica on which we have a Situation Report that you would enjoy much more than this miserable thing.
